

Just As We Predicted

Gallup Coal has advanced. We have said all along that the price of coal was bound to go up.

Gallup Coal Has Advanced

During the past week the price of Gallup coal has advanced and we cannot accept any orders at the old price. However, all orders that have been taken to date will be filled at the former price.

Other Good Coal

We have other coal that will serve all purposes just as well as Gallup. On this coal the price has not advanced, so you had better place your order before it does.

Causes of Things.

Reverend Gentleman—Do you know, my friend, that half the cases of cancer are caused by people smoking those foul, dirty, short, black clay pipes? Son of Toil—And do you know, guy, that 'alf the black eyes are caused by folks not mindin' their own business?—Ladies' Home Journal.

Didn't Like His Looks.

Old Gent—My son, will you smoke yourself to death in the bloom of youth or abstain from tobacco and live to be a man like me? Small Boy (looking him over carefully)—I believe I'll smoke.

Stuck to His Part.

"And did he give up his seat when you made those remarks about street car hogs?" "No; he only grunted."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Big Success.

Mrs. A.—Did your daughter's marriage turn out well? Mrs. B.—Indeed it did. She is getting $600 a month alimony.—Boston Transcript.

Partially Reconciled.

Adam critically regarded Eve. "Her attire is a bit primitive," he said, "but I prefer it to the nubbie skirt." Seeing no occasion for appending an explanatory diagram to his remark, he let it go at that and resumed his gardening.—Chicago Tribune.

Hands Off.

Columbus had just discovered America. "Awful," they cried, "didn't you know it is conserved?" Herewith they trembled for the fate of posterity.—New York Sun.

Spoiled For Further Use.

Customer—Look here; you've charged me for that leathery steak you brought me. I couldn't even cut it, far less eat it. Waiter—Granted, sir, but you bent it.—M. A. P.

Very Formal.

"The English audiences do not applaud the actor?" "Oh, no. If they like your acting, they write you a letter the next day."

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early age, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Fortunatus Questions His Daddy

Say, daddy, when do the first permanent teeth come through? Usually about 5 or 6 years of age, but before any of the "baby set" are shed a child cuts 4 permanent molars called "6th year molars."

EL PASOAN KILLED IN CLEBURNE YARDS

J. T. Mathis Was Working to Pay His Way Through State University.

J. T. Mathis, the Santa Fe switchman who was instantly killed at Cleburne, Tex., Friday, in a railroad accident in the Santa Fe yards, was formerly an El Paso resident and was employed in the G. H. yards as car clerk and also attended the El Paso school, attending the Mesa school and working in the railroad yards as checking clerk during the summer vacations. He came here with senator W. V. Turner when a boy. He was a page in the senate at Austin and attracted Mr. Turner's attention, the El Paso man bringing him home with him when he returned from the legislature several years ago. Mathis was an orphan, his relatives living in Dallas. After working here until the fall of 1909, he left for Austin to attend the state university. He was working in the Cleburne yards in order to earn money with which to continue his education at the Texas university.

BIG TRAFFIC RUSH

The S. R. O. sign was out at the city ticket office of the S. P. for a while Friday. The travel rush is due to the excursion rate being offered by that road to Salt Lake City, on account of the Mormon conference to be held there. A large number of Mormons from the colonies in Mexico are in the city en route to Salt Lake. The rates are on sale for three days and are good to return for two months.

SOUTHWESTERN HAS TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Telephones Now in Use Between El Paso and Other Division Points.

The Southwestern has completed its telephone service between El Paso and El Paso and it is now possible to communicate with any point along its line by telephone. The service has also been installed on the eastern division, reaching from El Paso to Tucuman. The telephone apparatus is attached to the telegraph tickler and connections are instantaneous.

DOUGLAS GOES TO DAWSON

A special Southwestern train left El Paso Thursday evening at 8 o'clock for Dawson. Walter Douglas, vice president, was in his car, "Nacozari," and the "Cloudcroft." Supt. Hawks is at present in the east and will probably return with Mr. Douglas's party.

D. & R. G. PROMOTIONS.

The traffic department of the Denver & Rio Grande announces the promotion of general passenger agent S. K. Hooper to be assigned to the general traffic manager, and F. A. Wadleigh, heretofore assistant general passenger agent, to be general passenger agent. The changes become effective October 1.

IRISH NATIONALS WHO ARE TOURING THIS COUNTRY

Distinguished delegates of the Irish Nationalist party, who recently arrived in New York on their way to attend the convention of the United Irish League of America, held in Buffalo, and who will tour America to seek support for the home rule movement. From left to right: T. P. O'Connor, John E. Redmond, Joseph Devlin and Daniel Boyle, all members of parliament. At the conclusion of the convention at Buffalo, Mr. O'Connor will go to Canada for a series of speeches, while the others will return to New York to address a meeting and will then leave on a visit to the larger cities of the east. They will meet Mr. O'Connor and all four will spend the limit of their time traveling around the country.

Special Notice To School Children

Puzzle Pictures Begin Next Saturday

We have just completed arrangements to run a series of puzzle advertisements. These will begin next Saturday, October 8th. Substantial prizes will be offered, and we ask the children to be on the lookout for the first of the series, which appears next Saturday afternoon in The Herald.

A STAR WITNESS AT THE LORIMER INVESTIGATION

Representative Beckemeyer.

Filled the Bill.

A teacher in a big elementary school had given a lesson in an infant's class on the Ten Commandments. In order to test their memories, she asked: "Can any little child give me a commandment with only four words in it?" A hand was raised immediately. "Well," said the teacher, "Keep off the grass," was the reply.—Tit-Bits.

The Easy Way.

"How do you propose to bridge the social chasm?" "By bridge parties."—Baltimore American.

How They Got Rich.

Mrs. Robinson—I could have married Brown or Jones if I'd wanted to and both of these men I refused to marry, while you are still as poor as a church mouse.

Robinson—Of course. I've been supporting you all these years—they haven't.—Boston Transcript.

Altruistic.

"Dear auntie," wrote the little girl at the summer resort, "I am having a fine time. Since I came here I have made 1,000,847,823 poor hungry little mosquitoes perfectly happy."—Chicago Tribune.
